

What Is NRA Sports?

NRA Sports gives clubs and ranges the chance to take individuals beyond the everyday, and offer an experience in recreational shooting sports.

Men and women of all ages and experience levels will find something that meets their interests and can challenge or improve their shooting skills.

The wide-range of programs is designed to do one thing, bring people and families together to enjoy their passion for shooting sports.

DID YOU KNOW?

Marksmanship became a recreational sport by the 10th century and today there are more than 19 million Americans actively participating in the shooting sports.

NRA Sports programs are designed to help shooting clubs enhance member benefits, increase attendance and promote NRA's mission to further the shooting sports. Affiliating your organization will not only give you the ability to offer these programs but your club will be marketed to over five million NRA members in NRA magazines, print mailings and online.

Shooting ranges provide the foundation on which responsible firearm education, training, and programs stand. They offer a place for shooters to practice and share their interests with fellow enthusiasts. However, one of the greatest challenges for ranges is maintaining and improving an existing range or the construction and building of new ranges. The NRA Range Technical Team Advisors (RTTAs) do just that by maintaining and improving existing ranges or helping to build and construct new ranges.

Your club's success is dependent on members, benefits and programs offered. Get the most value for your club by partnering with the NRA.

DID YOU KNOW?

NRA 3GE was designed with individual's creativity in mind. Organizers are encouraged to design an original course to uniquely challenge their participants.

Women's Wilderness Escape

With increased interest from women of all ages in shooting sports and the outdoor lifestyle, the NRA Women's Wilderness Escape is an opportunity of a lifetime. The program offers women ages 18 and older, a seven-night getaway to the NRA's Whittington Center in Raton, New Mexico, where they will be exposed to many different shooting sports disciplines from tactical pistol and shotgun to archery. Participants also get to unwind with entertaining evening events while making friendships with fellow shooting and outdoor enthusiasts.

The NRA Women's Wilderness Escape welcomes all experience levels. Encourage women at your club or range to participate in this unique event, and you'll have dedicated members for a lifetime.

In 2013, 450 NRA Instructional Shooting Clinics were held teaching firearm safety and marksmanship to over 14,000 women.

Winchester/NRA Marksmanship Qualification Program

Whether it's Pro-Marksman or Distinguished Expert, the Winchester/NRA Marksmanship Qualification program offers youth, men and women of all ages, the opportunity to be recognized for their shooting skills. The program provides incentive awards for developing and improving marksmanship skills, taking shooters from beginning through intermediate, up to a nationally recognized skill level that parallels a competitively classified Sharpshooter.

While qualification shooting can be self-administered, clubs and ranges can offer members additional benefits by providing on-site knowledge, guidance, materials and venue. Invite individuals, groups or even families to participate in this fun-filled, competitive challenge.

Qualification shooting can be conducted anywhere—on public ranges, at your favorite club, or even on your home range.

NRA Hunter Services

When it comes to hunting and skills training, America's 13.7 million hunters have known for years where to go: The NRA. Working in cooperation with the State of New York in 1949, we developed hunter safety training as it is known today. Since then, as our proven hunting education principles have been adopted by one state after another, we've expanded our services and assistance to hunters.

Now, we need your help. Your club or range can be an ambassador for continuing the expansion of these services, skills and training. Let us provide you with the information you need, so you can spread the word by becoming the go-to hunting knowledge center in your community.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Pittman-Robertson Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act of 1937 has provided over $2BN in federal aid through a tax on firearms and ammunition. This money is used to manage wildlife and their habitats with the goal of creating a better hunting experience for everyone.

Youth Hunter Education Challenge (YHEC)

The NRA Youth Hunter Education Challenge (YHEC) is recognized as the most comprehensive youth hunting program anywhere in North America, and offers a “graduate studies” program in outdoor skills and safety training for boys and girls 18 and under. YHEC is conducted under simulated hunting conditions to provide the best practical environment for reinforcing and testing a young hunter’s skills.

From rifle, bow and muzzleloader shooting at life-sized targets, to wildlife identification, to map-and-compass orienteering and more, YHEC participants get hands-on training in eight skills areas, giving them expertise in all methods of take and all types of game.

Interested in hosting your own local or state-level YHEC program, contact NRA Hunter Services to get started today!
